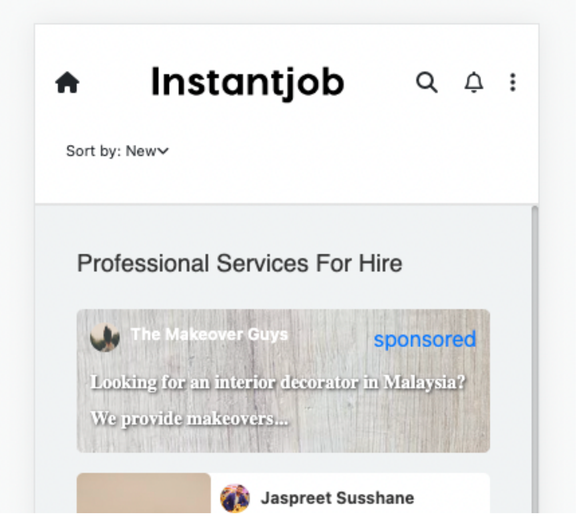
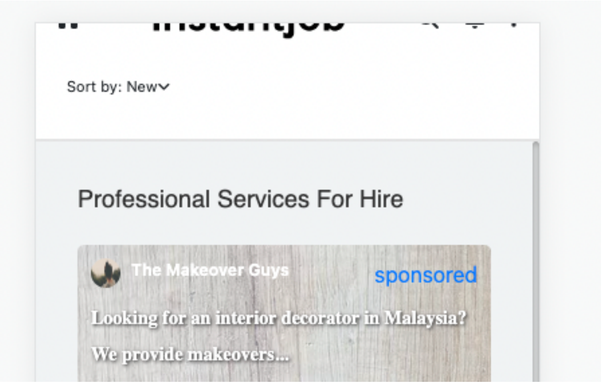
Please ensure full height layout. You can also set the background colour to body.
I believe this is not set in the body tag, some pages have.





Header in mobile view, needs to be static as well

For desktop layout, no need ‘x’
It’s not functioning anyway.

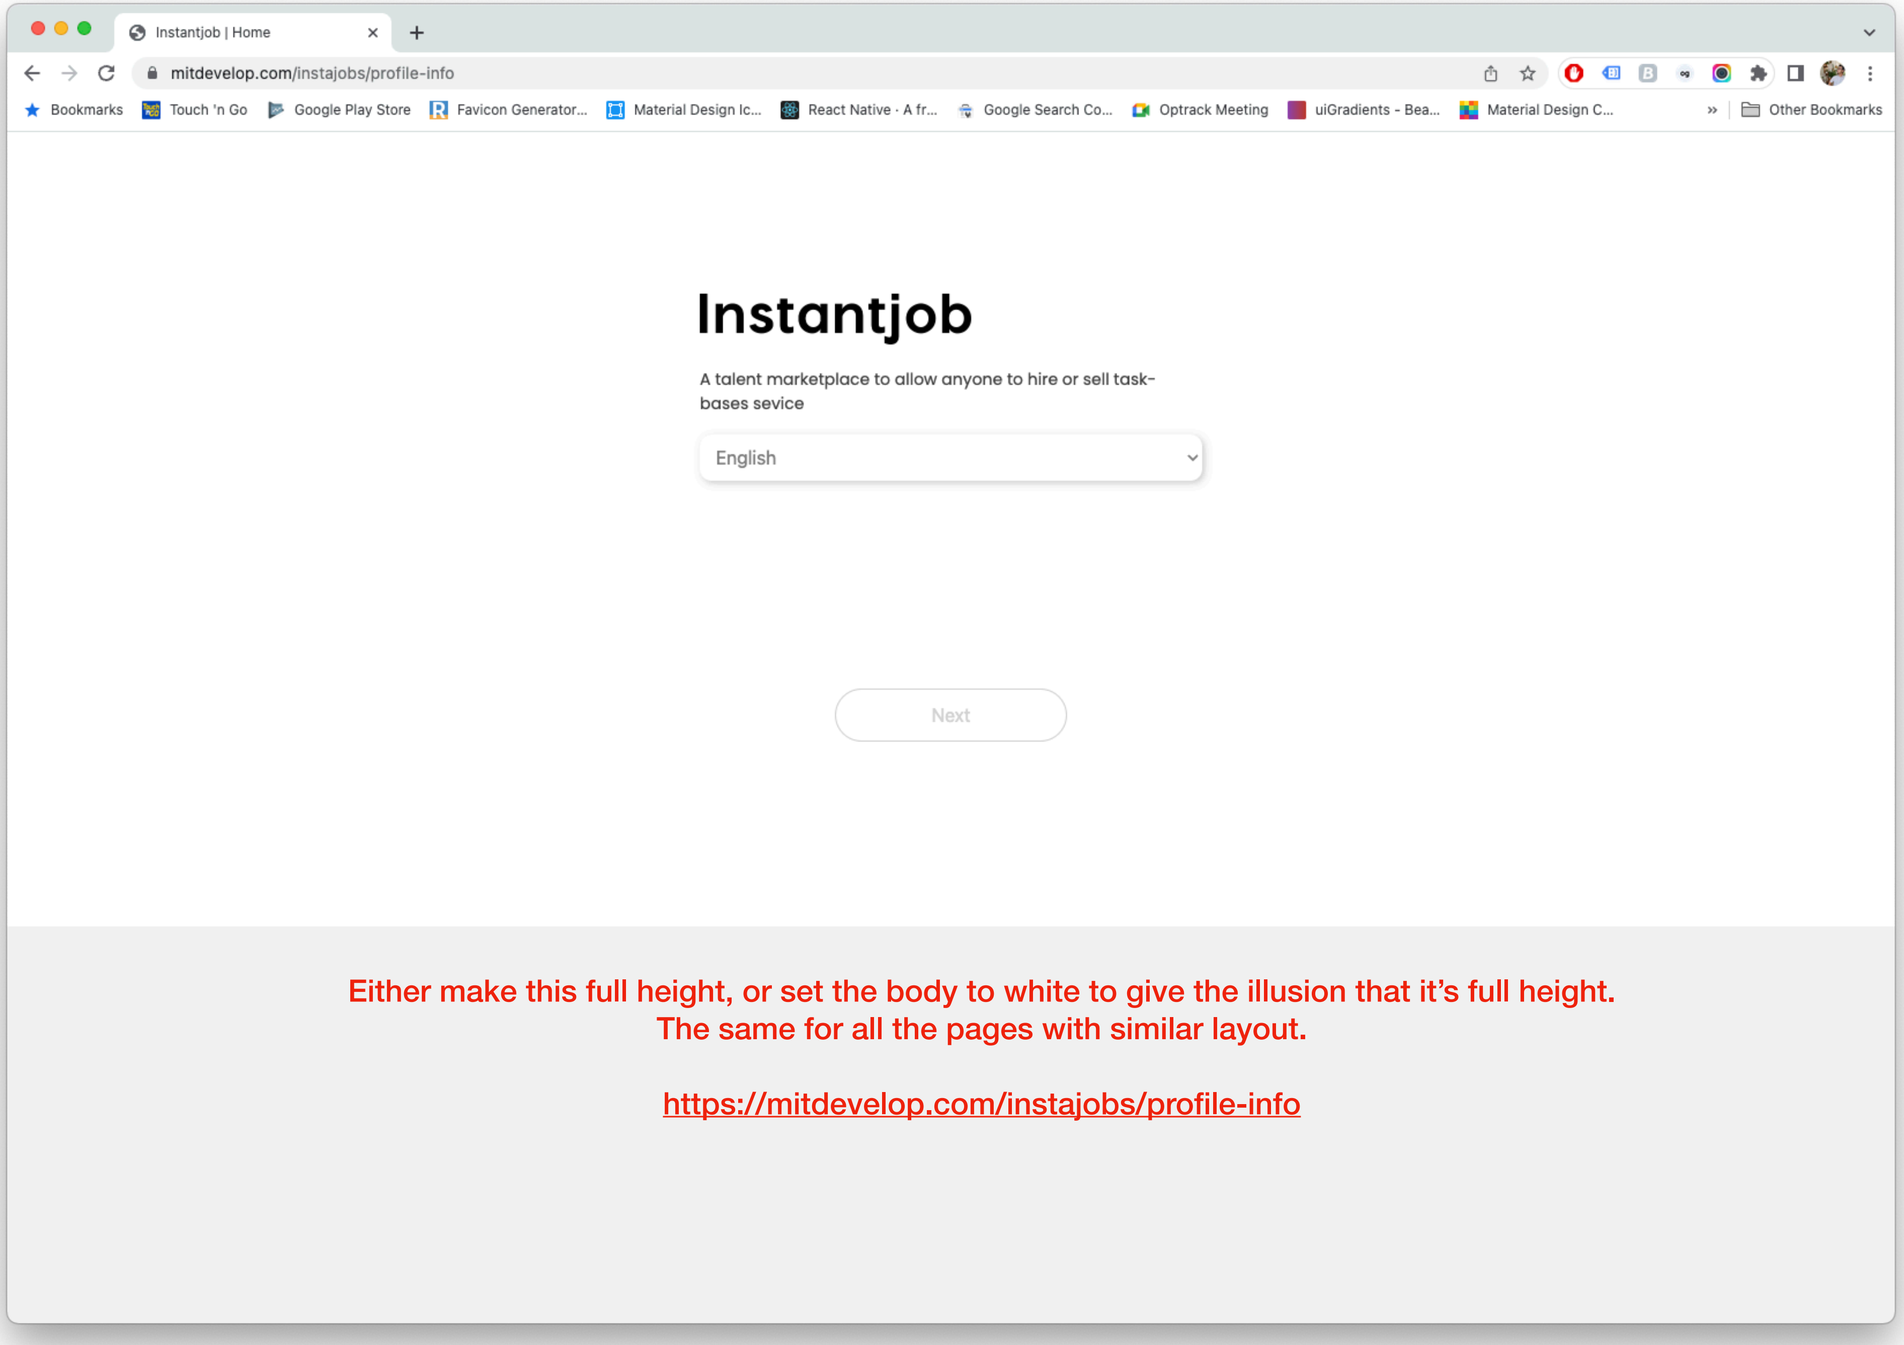
The layout here needs to be fixed
Spacing after checkbox
Either make this full height, or set the body to white to give the illusion that it's full height.



Either make this full height, or set the body to white to give the illusion that it's full height.
The same for all the pages with similar layout.

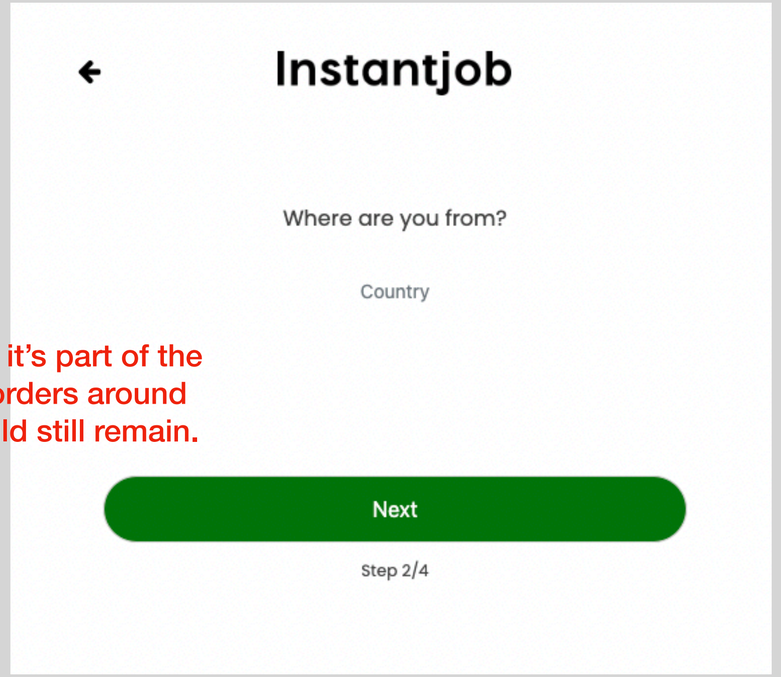
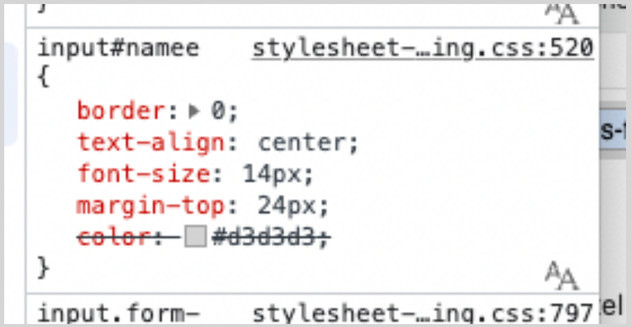
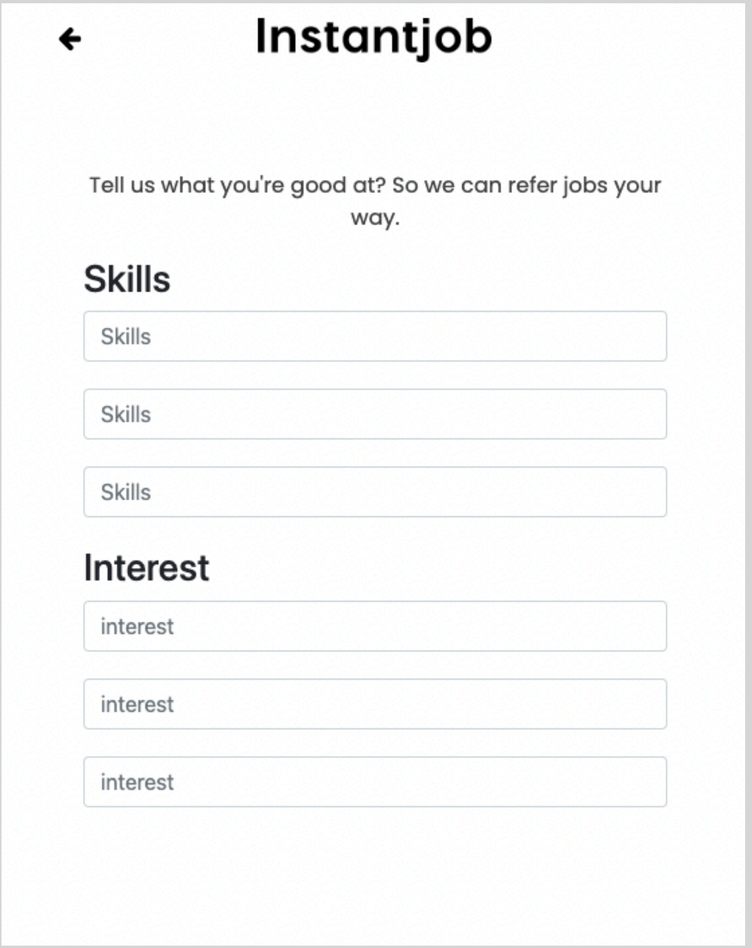
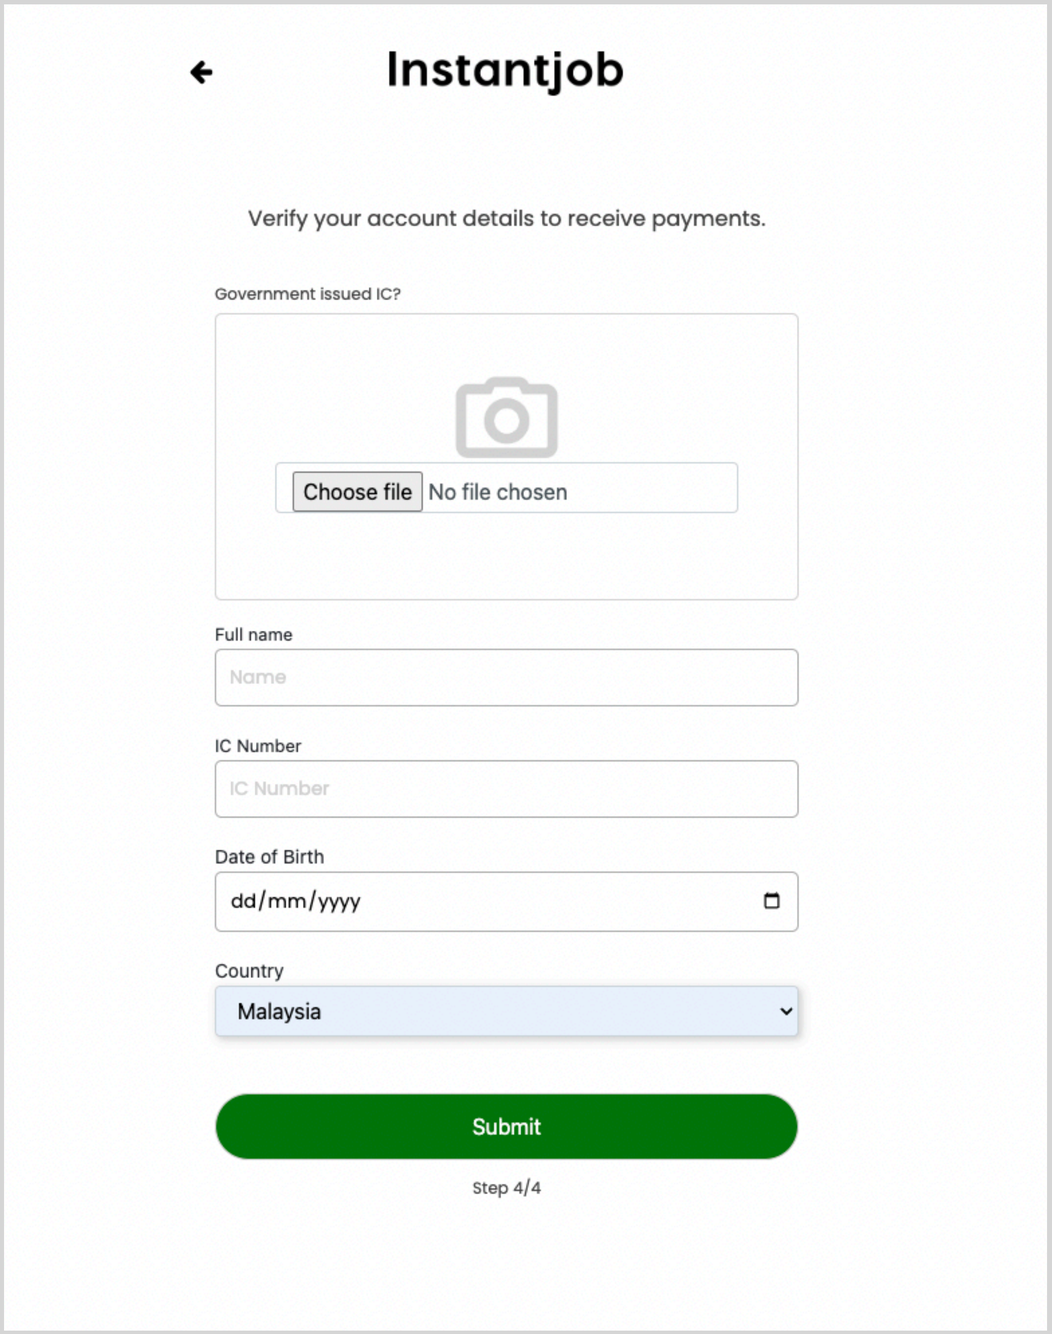
I can't remember if it's part of the design, but the borders around the text input should still remain.









Consider using a drag & drop implementation for image upload.
Please consider using Dropzone for an easy implementation.
